

bauhaus

- designing the 20th century

An illustrated talk by Graham Whitham on the interwar German school that influenced modern architecture and design

Monday 13th February at 7.30pm. King Charles Church Hall, 3 Warwick Park, Tunbridge Wells (near the Brew House Hotel)

Admission: £3 (TWTFA members) £4(non-members) includes light refreshments. Pay at the door. Visitors welcome.

Opened in 1919 and closed by the Nazis fourteen years later, the Bauhaus created new forms of art, architecture and design that were to have a lasting and profound influence in our modern world.

Graham Whitham has lectured at the Tate Gallery, Royal Academy and in galleries in the USA and Italy. He now teaches on the University of Kent's degree programme. He is the co-author of Understand Art History and Understand Contemporary Art, both published in 2010, and is a contributor to many other publications.
